

Having experienced the arrogance and incompetence of a quasi-monopoly ISP and excellent service from a small, ambitious provider, I cannot for the life of me see why it would be to the consumer's benefit to hand over the market to the big guys. Small businesses are the essence of a free market. Keep the market free, and keep the big bullies regulated!